Emmanuel's 60th Anniversary — The Celebration Continues

Christmas Celebration

The advent of the Christmas season was celebrated at Emmanuel on Sunday, December 2, by over 700 alumnae, family and friends, and members of the Emmanuel College community. In honor of the college's 60th anniversary and the International Year of the Child, the Emmanuel College Alumnae Association sponsored a performance of the Christmas Revels. Directed by John Langstaff of Revels, Inc., a Cambridge-based performing group, the afternoon's festivities included renaissance and medieval carols, a traditional mummer's play and ritual dances such as the Horn Dance and the Sword Dance. Members of the Christmas Revels, the Emmanuel College Drama Club, the Emmanuel Chorale, directed by Sr. Therese Fitzmaurice, S.N.D., Ph.D., and children of Emmanuel faculty and alumnae entertained the enthusiastic audience who filled the Marian Hall gymnasium to capacity. Led by John Langstaff and accompanied by the Cambridge Symphonic Brass Ensemble, the audience joined in singing numerous carols including a 3-part round of The Twelve Days of Christmas.

Many members of the Emmanuel College community donated their time and talents to make the celebration a success. Sr. Dorothy Higgins, S.N.D., Ph.D., acting academic dean, organized the day's activities and encouraged active participation. Vera Clifford, secretary, psychology department, an accomplished singer, performed "Come Unto Him" from Handel's Messiah and was accompanied on the organ by Sr. Therese Fitzmaurice.

Children of Emmanuel faculty and alumnae played an important role in creating a holiday spirit with their participation in the entertainment. Children who performed include: Michael, Kathleen, and Robert McCormick, children of Mary Quirk McCormick, class of '59; Paula, Patricia, and Matthew Hayes, children of Phyllis McManus Hayes, class of '59; Nancy, Danny, and Stephen McLaughlin, the niece and nephews of Marie Monahan Keer, class of '64; Matthew and Meaghan Wall, children of Thomas Wall, Ph.D., philosophy department; Daniel Lang, son of Claire Larracey Lang, '63, Ph.D., sociology department; Rebecca and Alanna Martin, children of Lenore Martin, Ph.D., political science department.

Shakespeare Evening

INTERMISSION with Emmanuel alumnae and members of the Emmanuel College community

The Boston Shakespeare Company Theater, 300 Mass. Ave., was the scene of a gala evening for alumnae and members of the Emmanuel College community on Friday, October 26. The performance of Romeo and Juliet was sponsored by the Alumnae Association as part of the ongoing celebration of Emmanuel College's 60th Anniversary.

Warm Wishes to Each Alumna for a Peace-filled New Year of 1980.

In Emmanuel, Sr. Janet Eisner, SND
Preventative Medicine Lecture Series

How to prevent illness and maintain your health will be the focus of a series of lectures on preventative medicine held in Emmanuel's Cardinal Cushing Library Auditorium. The course, which will present the ways and means of gaining and keeping good health, is offered Tuesdays, Feb. 19 - May 13, from 6:30-8:00 p.m. Two approaches to preventative medicine will be considered: 1) individual responsibility for environmental and behavioral factors which influence health; 2) maintenance of health surveillance through medical procedures and the correction of significant changes of certain parameters of human functioning.

Each lecture will be given by a specialist on the subject discussed. The lecture schedule is as follows: Alcohol-Drug Interactions, Feb. 19; Practical Means of Preventing Insomnia, Mar. 4; Practical Approaches to Sleep Disorders in Childhood, Mar. 18; Prevention and Treatment of Coronary Disease, Facts and Fancy, Mar. 25; Carcinogens in the Environment, Apr. 1; Three Facts of Juvenile Rheumatoid Arthritis, Apr. 8; Headache Prevention and Management, Apr. 15; Alternative Techniques of Approaching the Chronic Pain Problem, Apr. 22; Adaptive Changes to Physical Fitness Training, Apr. 29; Implications of Generic Drug Usage, May 6; Common Skin Problems in Office Practice, May 13.

There is no prerequisite for this course. It can be taken for credit (two graduate or two undergraduate credits) for $48 or non-credit for $24 and for registrants over 60 years old the fee is $12.00 (non-credit).

A single admission is $2.00. For more information, contact the Division of Continuing Education, 277-9340, ext. 118, 119.

Money Management

To many people, living on a tight budget is about as appealing as being on a strict diet. A budget that does not allow for some satisfaction beyond the basic living expenses is as prone to failure as a diet that never allows for an occasional dessert.

Devising a budget to fit specific needs and goals and learning to live with it realistically was the focus of a seminar entitled "FOR WOMEN: Managing Your Money". Nearly 100 Emmanuel alumnae participated in the seminar with alumnae from Simmons and Wheelock on Saturday, November 3, in Lucy Wheelock Auditorium, Wheelock College.

The next seminar co-sponsored by Emmanuel, Simmons and Wheelock will be held in Spring, 1980.

In Memoriam

Eleanor Fogerty '36
Catherine Herlihy '37
Lorraine Culhane Howley '53
Katherine Fenlon Kelleher '49
Kathleen Brady McKenney '67

Music Therapy Conference

Music is the medium through which children and adults with emotional handicaps can express themselves and make contact with others. The field of music therapy uses elements of music to aid in the development or rehabilitation of a client. In response to the need for qualified music therapists, Emmanuel College initiated a music therapy program several years ago and received accreditation from the American Association of Music Therapy in April, 1979. Donna Chadwick, R.M.T., C.M.T., is director of the program.

This spring, March 12 through 15, Emmanuel will host the Annual Conference of the American Association of Music Therapy. The conference will concentrate on three principal areas: Music Therapy and Childhood; Music Therapy and Adolescence/Adulthood; Music Therapy and the Aging. Lily Owyang, B.M.A., chairperson of Emmanuel's music department, is the program chairperson for the conference and Donald Procaccini, Ph.D., vice president for institutional planning, is the coordinator. Special events involving art and dance therapy and psychodrama will contribute to the interdisciplinary focus of the conference. Lecturers include faculty from Emmanuel, Harvard, Brandeis, N.Y.U., and the Hahnemann Medical School in Philadelphia. Therapists from around the country are expected to attend. Additional information can be obtained by calling or writing Lily Owyang, music dept., 277-9340.

Alumnae Workshops

This spring, Betsy Newman, M.A., M.Ed., program director of Counseling and Career Services, will be offering two special workshops for Emmanuel alumnae. The first workshop, "Self-Image: Improving Yours," will be held on Tuesdays from 10:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. from April 1 through May 6. This workshop is designed to encourage self-assessment and personal growth by developing a positive, healthy and realistic sense of self. "Re-Cycling Our Teachers," held on Tuesdays from 1:30 - 2:30 p.m. from April 8 through April 29, will focus on dealing with personal and professional change, assessment of skills and their transfer to the business community, marketing yourself successfully, job knowledge and the hidden job market, and effective interviewing techniques.

The workshops are free for alumnae. To register by mail, write to Betsy Newman, program director, Counseling and Career Services, Emmanuel College, 400 The Fenway, Boston, MA 02115. Be sure to include the workshop(s) you wish to attend, your name, address, telephone number and year of graduation from Emmanuel. Alumnae may also register by phone, 277-9340, ext. 120 or 210. Alumnae are also welcome at the following workshops to be offered to Emmanuel undergraduates: Career Seminar; Decision-Making and Problem-Solving; and Theories of Leadership.

Sr. Helen Madeleine Fund

The establishment of the Sr. Helen Madeleine Endowment Fund was announced during convocation ceremonies in September. It was a happy occasion to celebrate the opening of the 60th year of the college with the visit from the Foundress of Emmanuel and with the announcement of the establishment of the fund in her honor. During her address to all the "Friends" of Emmanuel, alumnae, faculty, students, administrators and guests at the convocation, Sr. Helen Madeleine spoke of how God has blessed Emmanuel College abundantly through sixty years and asked for his generous blessings for Emmanuel's future.

As Emmanuel College looks inward for spiritual perspective and outward for understanding of a changing world, its mission to offer outstanding education for women which is imbued with religious values and service oriented goals, is reaffirmed. In support of that mission, the Sr. Helen Madeleine Endowment Fund is being established to foster academic excellence at Emmanuel College. The fund has a two-fold objective: recognition of excellence in scholarship for students and recognition and support for academic development and research by faculty.

Emmanuel College now calls upon its "Friends" to participate in its mission by helping build the Sr. Helen Madeleine Endowment Fund. The first gift to the fund was made by Joan Fiss Bishop who served as an administrator at Emmanuel; she wrote, "Through the years I have continued to keep in touch with Sister Helen Madeleine, for whom I have deep admiration and affection . . . I am happy that Sister Helen Madeleine has been honored in this way which will help Emmanuel, which has long been so dear to her heart . . . ."

Gifts for the Sr. Helen Madeleine Fund are restricted gifts and should be designated for the fund. Checks should be made out to Emmanuel College and sent to the Sr. Helen Madeleine Fund in care of the Development Office, Emmanuel College, 400 the Fenway, Boston, MA 02115.

Emmanuel News is published for the alumnae, administrators, faculty, students, and friends of Emmanuel College.

Editor: Linda K. Sanders

Aides: Elizabeth Dickinson '82
Virginia Desmond '81

College Resources and Relations, Emmanuel College, 400 The Fenway, Boston, MA 02115. Telephone: (617) 277-9340, Ext. 158, 159.
Sixtieth Anniversary Events

Coming Attractions: The spring of 1980 promises to be an active time for the college.

Programs:
An Evening of Music with Louise Cash, professional opera singer, Emmanuel alumna and faculty member; Museum of Our National Heritage, Lexington, MA, Sunday, April 13, 7:00 p.m. — 10:00 p.m. Concert and reception.

Emmanuel Women in the 1980’s: A panel discussion by alumnae, who are experts in their fields, on the role of women in medicine, business and law.

Why a Catholic College Today? A panel will discuss justice concerns, choices and ethical questions and how they relate to a Catholic education.

An Evening of Song and Poetry: Emmanuel College Chorale and poetry reading

Locations:
One of the four programs listed above (except for the Evening with Louise Cash) will be offered for alumnae in each of the following areas:
Washington, D.C.; Lexington, MA; South Shore; Long Island, NY; Worcester/Framingham, MA; Hartford, CT; Merrimack Valley area

An Evening with the President will be held in Rhode Island, Springfield, MA, and Nashua, NH. Sr. Janet Eisner, SND, Ph.D., president, accompanied by faculty members and Emmanuel students, will meet with alumnae.

Details of the alumnae programs and locations will be provided soon.

All Sisters of Notre Dame are invited to Emmanuel on April 26 for a day of celebration in honor of Emmanuel’s 60th Anniversary. It is planned as a time to remember the past, experience the present, and envision the future.

Events:
Shakespeare Evening: A performance of Romeo and Juliet, Boston Shakespeare Theater, Friday, October 26, 1979
Christmas Revels: A Christmas celebration in the International Year of the Child, held in Marian Hall gymnasium on Sunday, December 2, 1979
Energy Forum: Held in Marian Hall gymnasium on Tuesday, December 4, 1979

ALUMNAE BASKETBALL GAME
SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1980 at 7:00 p.m.

Please join the 1979-80 Emmanuel “Saints” for an evening of basketball, conversation and refreshments. Competition is guaranteed to be fun and fair.

Notify us of your intention to participate by completing the registration form below so we can plan accordingly.

Return form to Reggie Odom, Athletic Director, Emmanuel College, 400 The Fenway, Boston, MA 02115

Alumnae Basketball Game Registration

NAME: ________________________________ TEL. #: ________________________________
ADDRESS: ________________________________
YEAR OF GRADUATION: ________________________________
CHECK ONE:
I will attend as an Alumnae player.
I will attend as a spectator.
Energy Forum: Problems and Possibilities

Energy is more than heat and gasoline. Its use, misuse and scarcity affect innumerable areas of each person's life. Generating more intrigue than a spy thriller, the energy arena is one in which everyone can lose.

To address the issues surrounding energy and provide for informed discussion, Emmanuel College sponsored an Energy Forum on Tuesday, December 4th. Experts from the political, academic, business and environmental fields presented their views to members of the Emmanuel College community, alumnii, and representatives from area colleges and universities.

Sr. Janet Eisner, Ph.D., president, hosted a breakfast for Lieutenant Governor Thomas O'Neill, III, the keynote speaker, and the forum participants in the president's dining room. The Energy Forum began at 9:30 a.m. with Sr. Janet's welcoming address to the assembled guests and her introduction of the Lt. Governor. In his keynote address, Lt. Gov. O'Neill stated that conservation and an emphasis on an energy mix encompassing a variety of energy sources, should be the focus of any energy program. The average family spends 15% of its total income on energy alone. Conservation, which entails putting the energy available to most productive use through home insulation, lower temperatures, leaving the car home, can make a difference in the family budget. Conservation can also be implemented right now while alternate energy sources, hydropower, nuclear, and/or solar energy, can be developed and ultimately perfected.

Emmanuel students presented numerous views on the Lt. Governor's energy program and asked him pertinent questions about the energy future of Massachusetts. Throughout the day's program, students, who had researched the topics that were discussed, posed questions and discussed energy problems with the panel participants. Students who participated include: Elizabeth Meier, Margo Moskos, April DerBoghosian, Janice Twombly, Ann Pepe, Darlene McConaghy, Claire Lynch, Martha Murawski, Kim Heller, Kim McLaughlin, Maureen Lindenfelzer, Debby Foley.

The first panel, Off-Shore Oil in Massachusetts, began at 10:00 a.m. with Cynthia Riggs, American Petroleum Institute, and Marsha Rockefeller, Sierra Club, discussing opposing views of the issue. During their presentation and the question and answer period that followed they dispelled many of the myths surrounding off-shore oil drilling. Douglas Crandall, Ph.D., biology department, served as the moderator of the panel.

Public Policy Making and Legislation on Energy, moderated by Betty McGannon, Tufts University, was the second panel discussion. Massachusetts State Representative Richard Roche, Massachusetts State Senator Sharon Pollard, Boston Edison representative Alan Davis, and economist David Dapice from Tufts University, grappled with the conflicting aspects and ramifications of the energy problem. The panelists were in agreement with the fact that a serious energy problem does exist, however, their views differed sharply on the answers to the problem and how remedies should be implemented.

David Rose, Ph.D., from M.I.T.'s Nuclear Engineering Department and Steve Hilgarten from the Energy Policy Information Center (E.P.I.C.) argued the merits of nuclear power during the third and last panel, Nuclear Energy, Promise or Peril? Professor Rose stated that the future of nuclear energy in this country is questionable as public pressure and uncertainty have brought the construction of new nuclear power plants to a virtual standstill. He believes, as does Mr. Hilgarten, that the energy problem is multi-dimensional, therefore, the solutions should also be multi-dimensional. Nancy Hicks, Ph.D., physics department, Emmanuel College, served as moderator for the panel.

Joseph Fitzpatrick, director of the Massachusetts Office of Energy Resources addressed the participants at a luncheon in the faculty dining room. His message was self-sufficiency. He stated that New England will have to start relying on its own resources, especially renewal resources, like hydropower, wood, wind, and solar power. His wife Mary Ellen Pollard, class of '69, correspondence secretary to Governor King, attended the luncheon along with Lucy Flynn, class of '75, director, State and Federal Relations, Mass. Office of Energy Resources.

The Energy Forum was organized and coordinated by Marie Natoli, Ph.D., chairperson of Emmanuel's political science department and Nancy Fay, assistant director of public relations. They were assisted by Deborah Messersmith and Susan Fortin, Office of College Resources and Relations.

Emmanuel and NEHGS Sponsor Seminars

Last spring, Emmanuel College and the New England Historic Genealogical Society (NEHGS) entered into an experimental agreement to jointly sponsor two seminar courses on New England Family and New England Community History. By this agreement, Emmanuel awards academic credits, provides part of the faculty, and enjoys the intangible but very real benefit of association with one of the nation's oldest and most prestigious societies. In return, the Genealogical Society provides access to its unparalleled resources in the family and community history of this region plus the services of Dr. Ralph J. Crandall, the Society's editor of publications and Dr. Michael Gorn, its archivist, as adjunct faculty. Both of these men, who have attained a high degree of recognition and respect within the scholarly community, are proteges of Professor John Schutz of the University of Southern California history department, one of the leading centers for the study of early American, family and community history.

This experimental, joint undertaking went into effect last September when a group of Emmanuel students from both traditional and continuing education began taking a seminar in New England Family History taught by Drs. Crandall and Gorn and Professor Philip Cash of the Emmanuel history department. Each Tuesday from 1:30 - 4:00 p.m., these students met in the Trustees' Room of the Society's impressive building at 101 Newbury Street for an exciting and demanding afternoon of lectures, discussions and training in the location and use of relevant printed and primary material. Each student was assigned the task of constructing their family history for four generations.

This project combined the romance and intellectual stimulation of discovering one's "roots" with practical experience in locating and using a broad range of private and public documents.

This semester Drs. Crandall and Gorn will join Professor John B. Cusack of the Emmanuel history department in offering a seminar on New England Community History at the same location and time and with the same ambiance and combination of intellectual stimulation and practical training. This course is open to anyone (as was the one in Family History) with no prerequisites other than enthusiasm and curiosity.

If the present experiment between Emmanuel and the NEHGS proves to be successful, it is possible that other projects, such as more specialized courses, weekend or summer institutes, or possibly a regional studies program, might be undertaken jointly.
Board of Trustees: Envisioning the Future

A sure sense of identity has enabled Emmanuel to endure and prosper throughout its history and will continue to be a major factor in insuring the college's vitality in the future. George Newman, 3rd, chairperson of the board of trustees, is committed to fostering and promoting Emmanuel's unique features. As chairperson, he directs the board as it works towards formulating programs and policies which will insure the college's ability to meet the needs of present and future students and to weather the demands of the economy, especially in the area of energy. The board's nineteen members represent diverse areas of expertise and bring a wealth of experience as well as numerous perspectives to the college. Nine board members work as educators and administrators at a number of institutions: Sr. Flavia Caliri, S.N.D., Ph.D., class of '39, serves as chairperson of Emmanuel's Italian department; Miriam Clasby, Ed.D., class of '50, is an associate clinical professor at Boston University's School of Education; Sr. Evelyn Egenes, S.N.D., M.A., is the Director of Records, Associate Registrar, C.W. Post Center of Long Island University; Patricia Goler, Ph.D., serves as the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Lowell; William E. Hassan, Jr., the executive vice president of the affiliated Hospitals Center, Inc., is a member of the Harvard Medical School faculty and director and board member of numerous health facilities and related services; Claire Larracey Lang, Ph.D., class of '63, chairperson of Emmanuel's sociology department, is the faculty representative on the board; Sr. Marietta Mahoney, S.N.D., Ph.D., class of '43, is chairperson of Emmanuel's theological studies department; Sr. Grace Pizzimenti, S.N.D., Ph.D., class of '46, serves as chairperson of Emmanuel's Spanish department; Elizabeth Molloy Twomey, M.Ed., class of '58, vice chairperson of the board, is currently the principal of Highland School in Reading, MA.

Joseph C. Barry, active in Catholic action groups, a graduate of Boston Law School and Harvard Business School, supervises a team of professionals in processing unfair labor practice charges. Ambrose J. Claus, a certified public accountant and attorney, is a partner in Arthur Young & Company, is married to an Emmanuel and Harvard business person of the board, is currently the chairman of the executive vice president of the board. Marietta Mahoney, S.N.D., of the Harvard Medical School faculty and a partner in the law firm of Goldstein & Manello, has been active for many years in public service and charitable organizations.

John J. Macafferty, recently appointed to the board, is a certified public accountant. He is a partner in the public accounting firm of Ernst & Whinney and is involved as a recruiter and instructor in the firm's professional development training program. Margaret A. McKenna, class of '67, served, until recently, as Deputy Counsel to President Jimmy Carter and advised the President and White House staff on a wide range of legal and policy issues. George W. Newman, 3rd, a University of Cincinnati Law School graduate, is president of George Newman & Company, Omega-Gaspar, Inc., and Mullins Trowbridge & Company, manufacturers and distributors of synthetic leather materials. Sr. Janet Eisner, Ph.D., president, is an ex officio member of the board. The board is divided into six committees to facilitate specific discussion and planning. Two new committees, the Buildings and Grounds Committee and the Development Committee, were initiated this year. The Buildings and Grounds Committee looks at the fixed assets, ways to conserve energy and preserve the buildings and methods to accomplish these goals.

In addition to alumnae giving, the Development Committee explores how to increase Emmanuel's income through investigation of funds and grants available from federal and state resources as well as public and private foundations, and friends of the college. Finding matching grants is essential to help finance the adjustments necessary for efficient energy consumption and distribution throughout the college is one of the committee's primary objectives at this time. The Finance Committee studies the budget and presents it to the entire board for final approval. Throughout the year, the committee monitors the allocation of funds and oversees budget perimeters. Reviewing the many aspects of student life including housing, food, overall morale, and student concerns is the focus of the Student Affairs Committee. The Academic Affairs Committee examines new academic programs, program changes and tenure as well as the relationship between faculty and the administration and students, the size and focus of the faculty and the goals of the school. The Alumnae/Public Relations/Development Committee looks into the relationship of the college to alumnae and to the city and the state.

Alumnae Directory

Work on the Alumnae Directory is well under way. Soon all alumnae will receive a brief questionnaire with a follow-up request to be sent one month later. The prompt return of these questionnaires is essential so that the information in the directory will be current and complete. The completed questionnaires as well as a list of all alumnae who do not respond to either mailing will be turned over to the publisher for telephone follow up. All alumnae will be contacted directly by the Harris Publishing Company to verify information, to see whether they wish to purchase a directory, and to offer them an opportunity to advertise. Alumnae who do not respond to the questionnaires are not reached by phone by the Harris representatives, will appear in the directory with the information currently held in alumnae records.

Alumnae will be listed alphabetically, geographically, and by class year. Each listing will contain name, class year, degree(s), residence address and phone number, and business or professional information. If you do not receive your questionnaire by Feb. 15 or if you don't wish to be listed in the directory, please notify the alumnae office by mail before Feb. 29.

NOTE: Alumnae will be receiving two different questionnaires in the next month. The questionnaire outlined above is for compilation of an alumnae directory. The other questionnaire you will be receiving is more detailed and will be utilized by the college to update records, improve communication between the college and alumnae, and to initiate career assistance programs. Please fill out both questionnaires and return them to the college as soon as possible.
Potpourri . . .

FACULTY NOTES

Dorothy Bales, M.Mus., violinst, music dept., presented a workshop on "String Pedagogy on the High School Level," at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, in November, 1979.
Louise Cash, M.Mus., music dept., performed arias and duets from Verdi's La Forya del Destino, with the New York Grand Opera at the Citicorp Center in New York City on Nov. 19. She has recently been signed by Semon Associates, New York; they will serve as her personal representatives and publicists in the field of opera and concerts. She was the featured soloist for the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs at the Chateau de Ville, Framingham, in October, and was guest artist with Ernest Triplett, baritone, in a program of operatic duets and arias and selections from musical theater at the Newport Art Assn., Newport, R.I., New England Mutual Life Hall, Boston, and Mechanics Hall, Worcester. Ms. Cash delivered a lecture entitled "Before the Footlights and Behind the Scenes," to the Troy Women's Club, Troy, New York in October.

Philip Cash, Ph.D., history dept., has been asked by the Harvard Medical Alumni Bulletin to do an article on Martin R. Delaney, the famous black physician and abolitionist, for their spring issue which will commemorate the 350th anniversary of Boston. He was inducted as a member of the Colonial Society of Massachusetts, at their annual banquet on Thurs., Nov. 29.

Donna Chadwick, R.M.T., director of music therapy, attended the National Assoc. for Music Therapy Conference in Dallas, Texas. She was a featured speaker at a conference entitled, "Perspectives of Holistic Health Care," held at U. North Carolina, Oct. 5-7.

Anne Doyle, M.A., director of the writing center, recently participated at Bentley College in the fall meeting of the Mass. Bay Conference of Writing Program Directors. The topic for this conference was "Testing and Placement." She also participated in an institute on "College Writing for Traditional and Non-traditional Students," sponsored by the Council on Higher Education for Urban Women. Sr. Barbara R. Eaton, Ph.D., chemistry dept., represented the Emmanuel College Sigma Xi Club at the National Convention of Sigma Xi held in Wisconsin in October, 1979.

Sr. Janet Eisner, Ph.D., president, was elected to the Board of Trustees of Trinity College, Washington, D.C. on Sept. 19, 1979. It is expected that Sr. Janet will serve on the Faculty and Educational Affairs Committee. On Sat., Oct. 20, she attended the formal dedication of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library and on Oct. 31-Nov. 2, Sr. Janet attended the Annual Meeting of the American Council on Education in Houston, Texas. On November 3, Sr. Janet addressed participants of the Finance Planning Seminar for alumni entitled, "For Wealth's Sake: How to Manage Your Money," at Wheelock College. She welcomed participants to the Institute held at Emmanuel on Sat., Nov. 3 and Sun., Nov. 4 on the topic of "Minimum Competency Standards" and greeted prospective students and their parents at the annual Open House Program sponsored by the admissions office on Nov. 4. Sr. Janet gave an address entitled, "Architects of the Future," to 100 members of Delta Kappa Gamma at a luncheon held at the Hotel Sonesta, Cambridge. She was head table guest at a dinner held at Temple Mishkan Tefila, Chestnut Hill, at which the Temple honored former Massachusetts Governors John A. Volpe and Michael Dukakis. Sr. Janet attended a week-long conference on Legal Implications for Church-Related Colleges at Notre Dame University, Notre Dame, Indiana. She was accompanied by Sr. Eileen Gertrude Mahoney, M.B.A., treasurer.

Britta Fischer, Ph.D., sociology dept., and her husband Herbert Fox, are proud to announce the birth of their daughter, Sara Fischer Fox, who was born on Oct. 3. Ms. Fischer heads the Lynn chapter of the U.S. - China Peoples Friendly Association.

Sr. Kathleen D. Guerin, Ph.D., English dept., newly elected Associate of the National Danforth Foundation, participated as a guest of the foundation in the discussion topic: "Commitment versus Neutrality - Values in Conflict in the Academy", at the conference for delegates on Oct. 11-14 at the Sheraton Hotel in Sturbridge, Mass.

Michael Jacques, M.F.A., art dept., has recently completed the last etching in a series of four for the Franklin Mint in Philadelphia. The etchings, which depict the most significant moments in the early history of flight, "Morning at Kitty Hawk," "Over Paris Roofops," "Lillenthal, Flying the Wind," and "Cayley: Inventor of the First Airplane," were commissioned by the American Aviation Historical Society. He has completed a second commissioned etching for the Springfield Symphony Orchestra entitled, "Turn of the Century Band." This artwork will be sold throughout western Massachusetts to help raise funds for the organization during 1980. Mr. Jacques lectured on drawing at the Pucker/Staffri Gallery on Newbury St., Boston and at the Winthrop Art Association's monthly meeting. He was recently the guest of honor at a dinner of the Board of Trustees of the Museum of Fine Arts and the George Walter Vincent Smith Art Museum, Springfield, Mass. This event, "Patrons' Night," was a celebration for the completion of "Victorian Still Life." Two of his works have recently been included in the annual Boston Printmakers show and exhibited at the Attleboro Museum and the DeCordova Museum. Mr. Jacques will serve as artist-in-residence for Abt Associates of Cambridge during second semester. During this time he will work on two books of drawings - Images of Age and Famous Social Scientists.

Rose Jacques, Ed.D., coordinator of the learning assistance center, participated in the Twenty-fifth Annual International Reading Association Convention held in St. Louis, Missouri where she acted as the chairperson of a panel entitled, "Test Processing." She received her Ed.D., in Reading Education from Boston University in September. Her doctoral dissertation was entitled "The Effect of Instruction in Certain Critical Reading Skills on the Overall Reading Ability of College Freshman." She attended the 31st Annual New England Reading Association Conference in Hartford, Connecticut in October and the National Adult Education Conference in Boston in November.

Claire Lang, Ph.D., chairperson, sociology dept., presented her lecture on "The Private Versus the Public World of the Family" on Dec. 4 at Emmanuel's weekly lectures and seminars on The Styles of Family Living.

Dr. Patricia Marsh, Ed.D., education dept., spoke at the Lincoln School Library on education of the gifted and talented.

Anna C. McCarthy, M.Ed., director of student financial aid, was the guest speaker at a Financial Aid Workshop for Hudson High School and Hudson Catholic High School students and their parents. She is a member of the College Work Study Committee of the Massachusetts Association of Financial Aid Administrators.

Patricia McMahon, M.A., English dept., has been elected to the Board of Directors of Children's Literature Association for a three year appointment.

Theresa Monaco, M.F.A., art dept., had an exhibit entitled, "Marks on Paper," at the GALLERY NAGA, 67 Newbury St., Boston, from Nov. 27 to Dec. 22.
Donald P. Procaccini, Ph.D., political science dept., was a discussant at the ELEVENTH NATIONAL LEADERSHIP symposium of THE CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF THE PRESIDENCY, Oct. 5-7, Kansas City, Mo. The panel topic was “Truman, Eisenhower, and Today.” She received a National Science Foundation Grant sponsoring participation in a seminar on “Aging, Family and Bureaucracy,” held at Hampshire College in Amherst, Nov. 8-9, 1979 and March 13-14, 1980.

Sr. Marie Augusta Neal, Ph.D., sociology dept., had her article entitled, “Peter Berger: a Retrospective Review,” published by the Council on Religion in Religious Studies Review. She also spoke to the New England unit of the National Catholic Education Association at their October meeting at the Holy Name Catholic Central High School.

Betsy Newman, M.A., M.Ed., program director, counseling and career services, recently attended the 33rd New England Personnel and Guidance Conference held in Boston at the Sheraton Boston. On Sat., Oct. 6, she presented a leadership training seminar to the Provincial Council of the Sisters of Notre Dame, Ipswich Province. She represented Manhattanville College at the dedication of the John F. Kennedy Library, and was a presenter at the Region I Conference of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, held on Nov. 13. Her review of Denise Levertov: In Her Own Province appeared in the October, 1979 issue of Choice Magazine.

Regina Odem, athletic director, is one of 2 persons selected thus far for the Mass. Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women’s Championship Tournament Committee. Emmanuel has been selected as host site for the Division III section of the tournament on Feb. 22-23, 1980. She represented Emmanuel in November at Holy Cross at the fall scheduling meeting of the Mass. Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women. On Nov. 10, she officiated at the MAIAW state volleyball tournament at Clark University.

Lily Ouyang, D.M.A., music dept., is the program chairperson for the National Music Therapy Conference.

Donald J. Procaccini, Ph.D., vice-president for institutional planning, is coordinating the National Music Therapy Conference, hosted by Emmanuel, March 12-16, 1980. On Nov. 7, Dr. Procaccini addressed the Newport County Women’s Club on “The Heritage of American Antiques” at the 50th Anniversary lecture of the organization. On Dec. 7, he addressed the National Conference of Elderhostel at the Radisson Ferncroft Hotel, Danvers. He discussed “Elderhostel: A Useful Catalyst for Campus Programming.” The conference was attended by Elderhostel coordinators from 50 states, representatives from government agencies on aging, foundation directors, and several hundred Elderhostel participants.

Joseph L. C. Santoro, A.N.A., art dept., exhibited his work at the Winthrop Art Association.

Susan Zeiman, Ph.D., education dept., served as director of evaluation to Project Focus: Methods and Materials for Training Career Education. She co-authored volume III: Theory and Research: Evaluation Results, a report to the Office of Education, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

WOMEN ON THE MOVE

Robert Chapman Brokowski ’68, has been appointed to teach in the fourth and fifth grades in the Milford School System.

Virginia M. Cahill ’74, received her Ph.D. from the Department of Education, Research, Measurement and Evaluation at Boston College in October. She is currently working as an Evaluation Specialist with the Boston Public Schools.

Judith Ansara Campbell ’71, has announced her candidacy for re-election to the Wal­ tham School Committee.

Cathie Clinton ’72, is alumnae director at Old Dominion University, Norfolk, VA.

Mary Lou Crane-Ryan ’74, Acting Director of the Massachusetts Film Bureau, was highlighted in “Proper Bostonians” in November 4th’s Boston Globe.

Doris DiTullio ’56, has been elected head of the language department at Everett High School.

Lucy Ann Flynn ’75, director of federal and state relations for the Department of Energy, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and regional coordinator for the New England Regional Energy Commission, addressed the recent joint meeting of the Framingham, Newton, and Waltham Zonta Clubs.

Helene Fortier ’74, presented a graduate organ recital at Marsh Chapel, Boston University, as part of her Master of Music degree in organ performance.

Patricia Gorman ’77, had her prints exhibited at the Learning Resources Center at the University of Maine at Augusta. Ms. Gorman teaches at the Maine Printing Workshop at Westbrook College.

Josephine F. Grillo ’72, of Randolph, has been named foreign exchange officer, international banking, at the First National Bank of Boston.

Diane Hunter ’67, received her Ph.D. in linguistics at Georgetown University in 1975 and has done post-graduate studies in education in Europe, 1975-77. She is currently director of a new private secondary school for girls in Washington.

Elizabeth McIntyre ’73, is one of three “medievalists” who have begun a four-year project at the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Indiana.

Patricia O’Leary ’77, is studying at Columbia University in the doctorate of philosophy program in political science. She will also be on the staff of the Journal of International Affairs.

Carol Gautieri O’Rourke ’67, works for Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith Inc. teaching women how to handle finances.

Marian Ryan ’76, has been appointed Assistant District Attorney in the Cambridge courts.

NEWS NOTES

Sr. Janet Eiser, Ph.D., president, met with Indiana alumnae when she attended the Conference on Legal Implications for Church-Related Colleges at Notre Dame University. Sr. Janet spoke with Anna Fagan Casasanta ’24, and met with Mary Reidy Sparks ’42, a physics teacher at South Bend High School, Elizabeth McIntyre ’72, a research assistant in paleography at Notre Dame University (she recently received the Doctor of Philosophy degree from Oxford University) and Barbara McGertrick Turpin ’72, who is currently working on her dissertation at Notre Dame University on the history of science.

Marya Kaluzynski Braunstein ’68, acting president of the Washington, D.C. alum­ nae association has published a directory of Washington alumnae.

Mary Mason, Ph.D., English department, met with San Francisco alumnae at a luncheon on December 29.

Thirty members of the class of ’59 celebrated their 20th reunion at the home of Carole Stebbins Meskill in Hanover, MA on October 14.

Sr. Therese Julie Fitzmaurice, SND, Ph.D., is directing the Emmanuel Chorale since her return from the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa, where she served as campus minister. Sr. Therese has already received many requests regarding formation of an alumnae group. She welcomes hearing from all of you and enjoys remembering the many memories of the musical jaunts of the Emmanuel College Glee Club.
Bilingual Education

Sr. Grace Pizzimenti, Ph.D., chairperson, Spanish department, has announced that Methodology for the Bilingual Classroom (SPN 316/516) will be offered, for the first time, to qualified graduate students. The course will present methods of teaching basic skills (reading, writing, arithmetic) in Spanish to Spanish-speaking children in bilingual programs on the elementary level. Open to qualified juniors and seniors as Spanish 316, and to graduate students as Spanish 516, the course will be taught by Ms. M. Pilar Latorre of the Spanish department, Mondays, 4:30 p.m. - 7:30 p.m. Graduate students will be required to fulfill more comprehensive course requirements for graduate credit.

Students who successfully complete this course may be recommended for the examination leading to state certification for the bilingual school. For more information contact the Spanish department, 277-9340, ext. 176. For registration information contact the Office of Continuing Education, ext. 118, 119.

Music Therapy Program Donations

Emmanuel received approval from the American Association for Music Therapy in 1979 to grant baccalaureate degrees and graduate equivalency leading toward national certification in music therapy. There are approximately 50 students enrolled in the program this academic year. Faculty includes Donna Chadwick, R.M.T., C.M.T., director; Etta Davis, C.M.T., clinical practicum supervisor; and Joyce Rosen, teacher of clinical piano improvisation.

Music therapy requires the use of traditional and therapeutic instruments for psychiatric, geriatric, and special education work. Since our student body outnumbers our current inventory, the faculty asks alumnae to consider a donation of new or used instruments to the program. Pianos, drums/percussion, and guitars are of primary need, but any gift could be utilized and greatly appreciated. If you have questions or would like to arrange for pick-up of your instruments, please call Donna Chadwick in the music dept., 277-9340, ext. 134.

Weekend Institute

On November 3 and 4, eighty-five teachers from Boston and surrounding areas participated in the graduate level institute, "MINIMUM COMPETENCY STANDARDS: Action or Reaction?" sponsored by Emmanuel College. Dr. Rosemary Barton Tobin, Ph.D., chairperson, education department, directed the institute which explored such topics as legal implications of the MCS for teachers, curricula change resulting from the new emphases, testing strategies, pitfalls of minimum competency and curriculum areas/competencies to be measured; reading, listening, mathematics and language.

Emmanuel College will host another weekend institute on March 22 and 23, 1980, on "TEACHING THE GIFTED AND TALENTED: An Update." For further information contact the Division of Continuing Education, 277-9340, ext. 118, 119.

Sr. Frances Gertrude Mahoney, SND

A group of eighth graders in the Boston Academy of Notre Dame often stood outside the high school classroom to catch sight of Sister Frances Gertrude, soon to be their teacher. But when the new year began, the group was disappointed to find that Sister Frances Gertrude had been transferred.

Thirty years later, I, one of the group, came to know Sister Frances Gertrude when she became Registrar at Emmanuel College. For more than ten years, living and working with her, I found how beautiful she was. Generous, loving, out-going towards all, she was a source of inspiration to others. Nothing was too much to ask of her.

Her fund of knowledge, common sense, long years of experience with students, her creative ingenuity, and a joyous sense of humor made her the right person for the demanding position which she held.